

How To Be Awesome In 2011: The Ten Steps to Awesomeness

- 1. Smile: you may think you have nothing to smile about but the more you smile, the more things you will find to smile about :)
- 2. Love everyone: there will always be pricks, you can't change that – but love them anyway because they need love the most.
- 3. Don't worry: it'll probably never happen and, if it does, worrying about it wont change it.
- 4. Give others the same respect you would give yourself; give yourself the same respect you would give others.
- 5. Be childish, be naughty, be immature but don't be evil.
- 6. If it feels right or wrong, it probably is.
- 7. Screw-up: we all do it, we all learn. Take risks. Be tolerant of those that screw-up.
- 8. Sing and dance, even if, like me, you're shite at both.
- 9. Live your life for the now. You might only have one and you don't know when it might end.
- 10. Remember: you ARE beautiful – and so is everybody else :D
